ENJOYING SUMMER!

School is over and summer has begun. Are you trying to find things to do? Maybe you could create a "summer bucket list" and make it an activity for the entire family. It is a great way to stay away from too many hours in front of the television, computer, tablet and video games.

Here are some activities that you can choose from to help you create your own family summer bucket list.

1. Build a Backyard Obstacle Course
Construct a backyard obstacle course with hula hoops, jump ropes, sticks, stones, hoses, and other materials from around the house. Make it a competition to see who is faster. Fastest time wins a prize.
 2. Camp in the Yard
No campground? No problem! Pitch a tent in the backyard and spend the night underneath the stars. If you forget something, you can just go inside and get it.
 3. Learn Cooking Skills
This fun summer activity is practical too. Choose a favorite food—such as grilled cheese or cookies—and have your parents help you make it.
 4. Enjoy an At-Home Picnic
You can host a picnic lunch without going anywhere. Prepare foods like sandwiches, chips, fruits and veggies and load them into a basket. Choose a destination, like a patio table or blanket in the backyard.
 5. Arrange a Scavenger Hunt
What adventurous things can you think to hunt for? Have fun hunting indoors or outdoors. Invite your friends or just have a family scavenger hunt.
 6. Read a Story
Visit your local library and find a great book to read. You could also ask your parents to take you to a bookstore to buy a book.
 7. Family Movie Night
Ask your parents if you could have a family film night every week. Maybe your parents could help you set up the backyard for a fun family film night outdoors.
 8. Play Games Outside
Why not spend one evening per week having some friendly family competition (think kickball, softball, and capture the flag)? Keep everything fair by dividing into new teams for each round.
- What other fun summer activities can you think of? Maybe you could have a water balloon fight, a jump rope contest with your friends, do sidewalk chalk drawings, or even planting a garden. The possibilities are endless. All you have to do is put on your thinking cap.
